The Privacy Act 1993. The Buyer and the Guarantors (if separate from the Buyer) authorises the Seller to collect, retain and use any information about the Buyer, for the purpose of assessing the Buyers creditworthiness, enforcing any rights under the conditions of sale provided by the Seller. The Buyer authorises the Seller to disclose any information obtained in relation to the Buyer to any person for any of the purposes set out in the contract. Where the Buyer is an individual these authorities and consents are for the purpose of the Privacy Act 1993. Under the Privacy Act 1993 the Buyer (if an individual) has rights to access to and correction of information held by the Seller.
